BUILDING ON THREE GENERATIONS OF INNOVATION

U-Line's Outdoor Refrigerator Wins KB CULTURE Award

The popular KB CULTURE kitchen and bath blog recently announced the winners of their annual KB CULTURE Awards for 2011. U-Line was named the winner in the Outdoor Appliance Category for their Outdoor Series Refrigerator 2175RSOD -- a stainless steel wrapped refrigerator that is designed for use in outdoor kitchens or entertaining spaces.

KB CULTURE is written by noted magazine editor, author, and design expert Leslie Claggett. In KB CULTURE she continually presents selective reviews of the products, places and perspectives central to kitchen and bath design. <http://kbculture.blogspot.com>

Regarding the 2011 Award winners, Claggett commented, "Reviewing the entrants in this year's awards program again revealed the commitment designers and engineers make to pursuing perfection. Whether finessing aesthetic details or implementing big-picture technological innovations, original thinking was evident in all categories."

Two award levels were presented in various categories – "Winner" and "Honorable Mention." Claggett shared the judging responsibilities with a former colleague from Kitchens & Baths magazine, Mervyn Kaufman, who is known for creating Design Idea Center installations at the Kitchen and Bath Industry Show.
